Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of CSIRO, I'm pleased to invite you to apply to attend the International Invasive Ant Management Workshop to be held at the CSIRO Tropical Ecosystems Research Centre in Darwin, Northern Territory, Australia from 27-29 April 2010.

This workshop will provide an important international forum for participants to network with others involved in invasive ant management, as well as to improve the incorporation of research and ant biology into management.

This letter does not represent an invitation to be used with your Australian visa application. Letters for visa applications will be issued individually at a later date following the announcement of successful applications.

Yours sincerely,
